

Dear Parents and Carers, It has been a very cold week. The playground is still very icy today so please keep your children with you and on the gritted areas as you leave the premises today. Here's hoping for a rise in temperature next week..

Attendance this week is 91.9%. There has been a lot of illness so I hope people feel better over the weekend.

Personal, Social, Health and Economic Education. (PSHE)

As we look towards Safer Internet Day in February then we are going to be working with the children over the next few weeks on how to behave and be careful online. This includes the internet and also phones and social media. As I am sure you are aware primary age children should not be on most of the apps and websites that are popular.

We are also looking at equality and justice as we work towards the Rights Respecting School Silver Award. This will encompass, in an age appropriate way, looking at the Equalities Act and protected characteristics. It is very important that the children have a good understanding of keeping safe and respecting everyone.
